

Second Call for Papers

International Conference on Success and Well-Being in Education and Employment

Research on success and well-being has a long tradition in psychology and sociology. Even though socio-psychological approaches integrated both perspectives for a considerable time, a much greater interdisciplinary potential remains to be discovered on a theoretical, conceptual, and empirical level.

The aim of the conference is to discuss criteria and predictors for successful development, most notably with regard to educational and occupational contexts. An emphasis will be placed on attempts at integrating psychological and sociological views on success and well-being.

Junior and senior researchers, members of research institutions, think tanks, and organizations working in relevant fields with a disciplinary background in psychology and sociology are invited to submit a one-page abstract to the organizers by 30 January 2011 (please use the abstract submission form on our website <http://tree.unibas.ch/conferences/success-well-being-2011/call-for-papers/>).

Contributions are selected and peer-reviewed by a scientific board. We intend to publish an edited book on this topic.

Disciplinary, multidisciplinary, and interdisciplinary contributions may cover one or several of the following topics:

- theoretical frameworks of success and well-being
- methodological problems attached to the analysis of the complex constructs “success” and “well-being”
- development and comparison of indicators on “success” and “well-being”
- comparative analyses (cultures, nations)
- innovative research designs (qualitative, quantitative, mixed methods design) on “success” and “well-being”

The conference will take place on 8 September 2011 and will be hosted by the University of Basel, Switzerland.

Visit our website (<http://tree.unibas.ch/conferences/success-well-being-2011/>) for further information, to submit an abstract, and to register for the conference.